MEDICINAL.

This important organ weighs but about three pounds, and all the blood in a living person (about three gallons) passes through it at least once every half hour, to have the bile and other impurities strained or filtered from it. Bile is the natural purgative of the bowels, and if the Liver becomes torpid it is not separated from the blood, but carried through the veins to all parts of the system, and in trying to escape through the pores of the skin, causes it to turn yellow or a dirty brown color. The stomach becomes diseased and Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Constipation, Beadache, Biliournese, Jaundice, thills, Malarial Fevers, Ples, Sick and Sour tom ach, and general debility follow. MER-RELUS HEPATINE, the great vegetable discovery for torpidity, causes the Liver to throw off from one to two ounces of bile each time the blood passes through it, as long as there is an excess of bile; and the effect of even a few doses upon yellow complexion or a brown, dirty locking skin, will astonish all who try it—they being the first symptoms to disappear. The cure of all binous diseases and Liver complaint is made certain by taking Hepatine in accordance with directions. Hosduche is generally cured in twenty minutes, and no disease that arises from the Liver can exist if a fair trial is civen. Take no pills when you can get Hepatine at the same price. For sale by all fruggists. PRICE 25c and 81.

A Curious Superstition. One of the strangest and ghastless freaks of superstition ever recorded was unexpectedly unearthed in South Beltimore this moraing .-One week ago last Saturday, Hercales Ross, colored, undertaker, corner of Conway and Little Paca streets, received an order for a cof. fio. The order was from the family of Susan Smith, colored, who died early that morning. She was a large, heavy womau, between fifty and sixty years old, and had lived at No. 9 Pin alley for many years. The offin was made and taken to the house, where the dead body was laid out in a shroud. On Monday the funaral was to have taken place, but as the day was rainy and miserable, the body was not consigned to the grave, but temporarily placed in a vault in Sharp Street Cometery. Here the remains remained for several days. Thursday the friends of the deceased woman again visited the come etery, opened the vault, lifted the coffin from its resting place and bore it toward the grave. When the grave was reached the coffia was set down beside the grave, the iid torn from its position and the fact of the dead exposed to view. Everything was in the same one. dition as arranged by the undertaker .-All present then gathered around the out-fin and, with bated breath, watched one of the sons of the dead woman slowly raise the body from the coffin and corefully turn it over, face downward. While all this was going on the friends and relatives of the dead kept their hears uncovered and mumbled an unintellitheir heafs uncovered and mumbled an unintelligible prayer, interspersed with many strange motions of the body and certain charms which they held in their hands. The lid was then replaced, the ceff i lowered into the grave, and the earth pited high upon it. This ceremony performed, the mourners left the graveyard, and retraced their steps honeward. The only wissess to the burist, besides the mourners, was the guardian of the deat—Hill, the gravedigger. Mr. Hill says that through all his experience as a digger of graves nothing of this kind ever occurred before. Few words heavys were spoken, and everything was conducted as deliberately as at a regular funcral. The relatives of the dead woman refused to give their resons for practicing such a waird and ghastly ceremony, and seem determined to keep the matter to them. and seem determined to keep the matter to themselves. it was learned, however that the whole family are extremely superstituous, and that their actions on more than one occasion have led their neighbors to talk about thom and watch them susticiously. Another rumor has it that the son of the dead woman was so wrought upon by superstition that he beli-ves himself divinely com missioned to change the mode of burisl. Others again say that it was the last request of the young man's mother. Whatever the explanation the fact remains that the body was turned over in the coffin. A great deal of excit-mont has been created among the colored poor le the vicinity of the occurrence - Balto. Bulletin. WONDERFUL CURES. -Sir Humparey Davy was once tempted into playing an amusing prac tical i ke by way of teeting the curative power of the imagination. When the properties of nitrous exide were discovered, Dr. Bedde e, jamping to the eneducing that it must be a specific for paralysis, chose a subject upon whom to try it, and Sir Humphrey consected to ad minister the gas. B.fore doing so, Davy, desiring to note the degree of snim si temperature. placed a small thermometer noder the paraly tic's tongus. Thanks to Dr. Beddoes, the pior fellow felt sure of being cured by the new process, although utterly in the dark as to the nature of it. Face, ing that the thermometer was the magical instrument which was to make a new man of him, he no soover felt it under 75 his tongue than he declared that it acted like a 75 charm throughou: his body. Sir Hamphrey wickedly screpted the cus, and day after day 4 50 for a f rinight went through the same simple pronounce the patient cured. M. Volcipelli, a 5 CO Roman physician, played a similar trick upon BRYANT'S STANDARD FERTILIZERS. some of his hospital patients, who were greatly affected whenever powerful magnets water brought near them. Piscing them under exactly the same conditions to all apper and, but tak ng particular care to exclude magnetis in fluence, he found that every one of them was disturbed in the same degree as when the magnets were countly employed .- All the Year Round. THE MYSTERIES OF A LUMP OF COAL -For years no one had supposed that a lump of soft coal, dug from its mine or bed in the earth possessed any other purpose than that of fuel. It was next found that it would afford a gas which was combustible. Unemical analysis proved it to be made of hydrogen. La process of time mechanical and chemical ingenuity d. vised a mode of manufacturing the gas, and applying it to the lighting of buildings and cities on a large scale. In doing this, other products of distillation were developed, until step by step, the following ingredients are (x tracted from it: An expelient oil to supply light houses, rotal to the best sporm oil, at owerest. Bezzice-a light core of ethetial fluid, which evaporates early, and, combined with vapor or moist eir, is used fir the putpose of portable gas lamps, so called. Napiba a heavy flaid, usaful to di save gu ta percha and ladia rabber; an excellent oil for lubricating purposes. Asphaltum-which is a black, soit substance, used to making varoishes, o-voring roofs and covering over vaults. Par-fiae-1 white crystaline substance resembling white wax candles; it melts at a temperature of 110 degrees and affords and excellent light. Al these substacces are now made from eoft coal.
